Fish Health

When fish are transported or the system undergoes significant changes, they can often get stressed. This causes a drop in immune system ability and their protective slime coat is compromised, making them vulnerable to disease, parasites, and fungus.

The Vitamin C in Paradigm naturally boosts the immune system of fish so that the effects of stress aren't as threatening. The addition of aloe vera also compounds the stress reduction by providing the natural healing benefits of Vitamin E and slime coat protection.

Because of its stress reducing benefits, Paradigm is a fish's best travel partner when stress is likely.
